Good students usually have good study habits and know how to plan their time efficiently. Some find it helpful to draw up a five or six day program each week and plan what they will do and when. Of course one cannot always keep to such a plan; unexpected things often happen but even the making of such a plan forces us to think about what we ought to during the week and this is the first step towards doing it.

1. A weekly study program can be very useful
 - a. after good study habits have been established
 - b. but doesn't lead to better study habits
 - c. so long as it isn't very detailed
 - d. even if one doesn't keep to it exactly
2. Good students
 - a. only do what they ought to do and not what they want to do
 - b. waste a lot of time thinking about what they ought to do
 - c. owe their success to good study habits and careful planning of their time
 - d. take five or six days to do what they could do in two or three days
3. One advantage of drawing up a work plan for the week is that
 - a. it reminds us of what we have to do during the week
 - b. unexpected problems can be avoided
 - c. we can give ourselves two whole free days
 - d. we soon grow used to working at regular time

Water is very important to us. We cannot live without it. There is a lot of water on the earth, but we cannot use most of it. About 97.4% of the earth's water is salty. Most of the fresh water is snow and ice near the North and South Poles. We can use only about one percent of the water on the earth. We use water from both lakes and rivers. Some of the water evaporates and then becomes rain. Of course we use rainwater for farms and other things. We use this water again and again. Sometimes the earth's water is in the wrong place. There is a lot of rain in the tropics, but it is difficult to have farms in the tropics. Most of the land there is not very rich. Some desert land is rich, but there is only a little water in the desert. Water is a problem for many people in the world.

4. About ____ of the earth's water is fresh.
